West Virginia's Last Game No. 18/20 West Virginia 37, Maryland 31

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (Sept. 17, 2011) - West Virginia captured the first road victory of head coach Dana Holgorsen's tenure with a 37-31 victory over Maryland.

The Mountaineers overcame an early 3-0 deficit to take a commanding lead only to hold off a furious Terrapin comeback for the win.

Trailing 3-0 after a Nick Ferrara 25-yard field goal, West Virginia took the lead for good at the 3:02 mark of the first quarter, when tailback Vernard Roberts scampered in from nine yards away to end a 10-play, 88-yard scoring drive.

The Mountaineers quickly upped their lead to 14-3 with 1:44 left in the first quarter, when Terence Garvin intercepted a Danny O'Brien pass and returned it 37 yards for a score and a 14-3 West Virginia advantage, heading into the second quarter.

West Virginia added two more scores to its lead, when kicker Tyler Bitancourt added a 35-yard field goal at the 13:33 mark, and Andrew Buie scored on a 10-yard touchdown run to give WVU a 24-3 lead.

Maryland answered at the 2:32 mark, when receiver Kevin Dorsey hauled in an 18-yard touchdown pass from O'Brien to cut the Mountaineer lead to 24-10.

However, as time expired in the half, Bitancourt was good on a 34-yard field goal to end a nine-play drive and put the Mountaineers in the locker room with a 27-10 lead at the half.

It appeared as if West Virginia was going to turn the game into a rout on its first possession of the third quarter, when quarterback Geno Smith connected with receiver Stedman Bailey for a 34-yard touchdown pass, giving the Mountaineers a 34-10 advantage with 11:36 remaining.

However, Maryland would have nothing to do with a rout and staged a furious comeback in front of the fifth-largest crowd in Byrd Stadium history.

Behind the running of Davin Meggett, the Terps started their comeback, when he scored on a 20-yard touchdown run. The Terp defense started to stiffen, and running back D.J. Adams added a six-yard scoring run, before the end of the third quarter to put the score at 34-23 with a quarter left to play.

Adams again found the end zone with a two-yard rush, and Meggett rushed in for the two-point conversion to cut the margin to 34-31 with 10:29 left in the game.

However, the Mountaineers proceeded to eat some dock with a 5:41 scoring drive, but only came away with a 21-yard Bitancourt field goal as Maryland stayed within striking distance at 37-31 with 4:42 left to play.

O'Brien marched the Terps down to the WVU

37-yard line and even converted a crucial fourth down play, but safety Eain Smith ended the Terp rally on a third-down and eight play, when he intercepted O'Brien with 1:13 left in the game to seal the WVU win.

Smith passed for 388 yards, and for the first time in school history, three receivers went over the 100-yard receiving mark in a game, as Tavon Austin (11-122), Bailey (8-113) and Ivan McCartney (8-101) pulled off the feat. Linebacker Najee Goode contributed 13 tackles in the win.

O'Brien finished with 289 yards passing, and Meggett gained 113 yards on the ground. Eric Franklin topped all tacklers with 15.

WVU rushed for 92 yards and passed for 388 to total 480 yards of total offense. The Terps netted 188 yards on the ground and 289 through the air for 477 yards of offense.

The win gave West Virginia a six-game winning streak in the series and three straight road wins at Byrd Stadium.

The Last Time Against LSU

No. 15/12 LSU 20, No. 22/21 West Virginia 14

BATON ROUGE, La. - (Sept. 25, 2010) - LSU took advantage of two West Virginia turnovers to defeat the Mountaineers, 20-14, before 92,575 fans at Tiger Stadium.

Along with the miscues, LSU also used a 60-yard punt return from Patrick Peterson to jump out to a 17-0 lead in the second quarter, before the Mountaineers got on track and made a game of it in the second half.

West Virginia had the first scoring opportunity after cornerback Keith Tandy intercepted a Jordan Jefferson pass. The WVU offense then marched 67 yards in nine plays, but came away empty when kicker Tyler Bitancurt's 28-yard field goal attempt was blocked.

The first points in the game came when the Tigers capitalized on a Mountaineer fumble at their own seven-yard line. Four plays later, Stevan Ridley powered in from one-yard away for a 7-0 LSU lead.

On its next possession, West Virginia quarterback Geno Smith was picked off by Tyrann Mathieu at the Mountaineer 41-yard line, which led to a 49-yard Tiger field goal by Josh Jasper, giving LSU a 10-0 lead at the 11:54 mark of the second quarter.

Three plays later, LSU grabbed a commanding 17-0 lead when the Tiger defense forced West Virginia to punt and Peterson returned Gregg Pugnetti's punt 60 yards for the score.

West Virginia's offense got on the scoreboard with 0:48 left in the half when Smith connected with receiver Stedman Bailey for a five-yard score, ending a 10-play, 53-yard drive and cutting the LSU lead to 17-7.

The Mountaineers capitalized on the big play early in the third quarter when defensive back Eain Smith intercepted Jefferson on the opening possession and returned the ball 38 yards to the LSU 15-yard line.

Two plays later, West Virginia cut LSU's lead to 17-14 when Smith hit for his second touchdown pass in the game, this time to receiver Jock Sanders on a 13-yard toss.

However, three points was as close as the Mountaineers would come as the Tigers extended their lead back to six, 20-14, at the 14:56 mark of the fourth quarter on Jasper's 23-yard field goal.

While the Mountaineer defense continued to hold the Tiger offense off the board for the rest of the fourth quarter, the offense could not do anything with the bigger and faster LSU defense.

Trailing just 20-14, West Virginia's offense had three possessions in the fourth quarter to try and take the lead and finish out the comeback, but could not produce any points against the vaunted Tiger defense.

Final numbers in the game showed West Virginia star tailback Noel Devine with just 37 yards on 14 carries as he battled a toe injury suffered in the first quarter. Smith finished with 119 yards passing and two scores, while Sanders led the Mountaineer receivers with five catches for 47 yards. Safety Robert Sands led the West Virginia defense with nine tackles and one tackle for loss of six yards.

For LSU, tailback Ridley finished with 116 yards rushing and one score. Jefferson passed for just 75 yards, with 38 of them going to receiver Rueben Randle on his four catches. Linebacker Kelvin Sheppard led the LSU defensive effort with 11 stops.

Final totals showed West Virginia with 58 yards rushing and 119 passing for 177 yards of total offense. LSU managed just 80 yards passing against the WVU defense, but countered that with 150 yards rushing to total 230 yards of offense.

The loss dropped West Virginia to 3-1, while LSU improved to 4-0.

New WVU Tradition - Mountaineer Mantrip

✓ The inaugural West Virginia football Mountaineer Mantrip, a team walk set to rally WVU fans before each home game this season, made its debut on Sunday, Sept. 4, prior to the Mountaineers' 2011 season opener against Marshall.

The walk, a nod to the state's proud coal industry and heritage, begins when the team is dropped off approximately 2 hours and 20 minutes before kickoff at the corner of the WVU Medical Center and Don Nehlen Drive. Fans are encouraged to line the path, which will take the team and coaching staff, led by head coach Dana Holgorsen, between the blue and light blue lots and to the entrance of the Northeast gate at Milan Puskar Stadium.

The team is escorted by the Mountaineer mascot, the cheerleading squad and members of the Pride of West Virginia, the WVU marching band, on its route.

The Mantrip, named after the shuttle that typically transports miners down into an underground mine at the start of their shift, will take place before every home game this season.

Talley On-Campus Salute

✓ West Virginia is honoring former All-American linebacker Darryl Talley during the first quarter of the LSU game on his induction into the College Football Hall of Fame in December in New York. He becomes the 12th Mountaineer to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

Talley was one of the most dominant defenders in West Virginia University and Buffalo Bills history. A four-year starter at linebacker for the Mountaineers from 1979-82, Talley amassed 484 career tackles – the most by any WVU player when his playing career ended. His five tackles for loss in 1980 versus Penn State still stand as a WVU single-game record.

For his career, Talley had 282 unassisted tackles, 202 assisted tackles, 28 tackles for loss and 19 quarterback sacks from 1979-82. The native of East Cleveland, Ohio, went on to stardom in Buffalo as a starter for 12 outstanding seasons at linebacker from 1983-94, never missing a game while playing for the Bills.

Talley is the Bills' all-time leading tackler with 1,137 career takedowns. He also recorded 38.5 sacks and 11 interceptions as a Bill. Talley spent the 1995 campaign with the Atlanta Falcons and played one more year with the Minnesota Vikings in 1996 before retiring.

Hitting the Century Mark

✓ At Maryland, the Mountaineers had three receivers finish with 100 or more yards receiving, marking the first time in school history that WVU had three 100-yard receivers in a game. Tavon Austin collected 11 catches for 122 yards, Stedman Bailey had eight receptions for 113 yards and a touchdown and Ivan McCartney finished with eight catches for 101 yards.

For the season, the Mountaineers have had four receivers finish with 100 or more yards receiving, passing last year's season total (3) for 100-yard receivers. That also marks the most 100-yard receivers since five players finished with 100 or more yards in 2003.

Third-Down Conversions

✓ West Virginia converted 50.0 percent of its third-down attempts against Marshall (7/14), a season-low 36.4 percent (4/11) against Norfolk State and 46.2 percent (6/13) at Maryland.

For the 2011 season, the Mountaineers have converted for 25.0 percent (2/8) in the first quarter, 57.1 percent (8/14) in the second quarter, 42.9 percent (3/7) in the third quarter and 44.4 percent (4/9) in the fourth quarter.

Tackles For Loss

✓ The Mountaineer defense was swarming against Norfolk State, making eight stops in the Spartans' backfield. They posted seven against Marshall in game one and four at Maryland. Eight different WVU players were part of tackles for loss against Marshall and nine were part of one against Norfolk State.

For the season, Bruce Irvin leads the defense with three tackles for loss and Keith Tandy and Jorge Wright each have two. Will Clarke, Pat Miller and Casey Vance each have 1.5.

Run Defense

✓ West Virginia's run defense was among the best in the nation during the 2010 season, giving up an average of 2.7 yards per rush and 86.46 yards per game. Against Marshall, the Mountaineer defense held the Thundering Herd offense to 72 yards, and Norfolk State finished with 88 yards. Maryland finished with a season-high 188 yards on the ground.

Since 2002, WVU has held 55 opponents under 100 yards rushing. When the team has held an opponent under 100 yards during that time, it has a record of 51-4.

All-Purpose Running

✓ At Maryland, Tavon Austin finished with 243 all-purpose yards, finishing with 122 yards receiving and 121 yards in kickoff returns.

That mark tied Noel Devine's 243 all-purpose yards against Oklahoma in the 2008 Fiesta Bowl and was the most since Steve Slaton had 345 all-purpose yards against Pitt in 2006.

Special Teams Report

✓ West Virginia has shown vast improvement in both its kickoff and punt return and field goal units this season.

WVU is averaging 18.0 yards per punt return, ranking No. 1 in the BIG EAST and No. 8 nationally.

Terence Garvin made his first career interception a memorable one, returning it 37 yards for a touchdown. Darwin Cook had his first career interception and Eain Smith finished with his second career interception. Smith's interception in the fourth quarter sealed the win for the Mountaineers.

The three interceptions by WVU marked the most interceptions in a game since finishing with three swipes against USF last season.

Total Defense

✓ West Virginia gave up 187 total offensive yards against Marshall, 285 against Norfolk State and a season-high 477 yards at Maryland.

For the season, the Mountaineer defense is giving up an average of 316.3 yards per game, ranking No. 5 in the BIG EAST and No. 40 nationally.

No. 24 West Virginia 34, Marshall 13

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 4, 2011) - In a bizarre evening in the Mountain State, Dana Holgorsen's debut as West Virginia's 33rd head football coach got off to a winning start with a 34-13 victory over Marshall.

With West Virginia leading 27-13 at the 4:59 mark of the third quarter, both teams had to leave the field and seating area as Milan Puskar Stadium was evacuated due to severe rain and lightning. After a three hour and three minute delay, the game resumed until the 14:36 mark of the fourth quarter, when lightning forced the teams off the field again. Both delays totaled four hours and 22 minutes, before the game ended with West Virginia coming away with the victory.

Marshall struck first with 10:18 left in the opening quarter when Andre Booker returned a punt 87 yards for a quick 7-0 lead for the Herd.

The Mountaineers responded with a 10-play, 71-yard drive that ended with a Tyler Bitancurt 27-yard field goal, cutting the deficit to 7-3.

West Virginia would go on to put the next three scores on the board. First, quarterback Geno Smith hit Ivan McCartney with a four-yard strike to end another 10-play drive. Then Smith directed a 13-play scoring march and connected with Stedman Bailey on a 15-yard toss, before Bitancurt came on again and connected on a 43-yard field goal for a 20-7 Mountaineer advantage late in the second quarter.

Marshall responded with a 10-play drive of its own that went for 72 yards, and the Herd got a 24-yard field goal from Tyler Warner as the half expired to cut the West Virginia lead to 20-10.

The Thundering Herd again cut into the West Virginia lead at the 5:14 mark of the third, when Warner converted on a 21-yard field goal attempt to pull the Herd within seven at 20-13.

But West Virginia quickly erased the Marshall momentum on the ensuing kickoff, as Tavon Austin returned the Herd kick 100 yards for a score and a 27-13 West Virginia advantage. It was the second kickoff return of Austin's career, and he became just the sixth Mountaineer in school history to record a 100-yard kickoff return.

Soon after the Austin return, the rain came and the sky lit up as severe weather blanketed the entire state.

When play resumed, West Virginia went on the offensive again and basically put the game away when tailback Vernard Roberts rushed in from one-yard away for a 34-13 advantage.

The second delay lasted one hour and 19 minutes before both school administrations and conference offices determined it was in the best interest of the student-athlete to end the 3:30 pm game at 10:24 p.m.

West Virginia was led by quarterback Geno Smith, who passed for 249 yards on 26 completions and two touchdowns. Bailey hauled in five catches for 76 yards, while Najee Goode led all tacklers with seven.

Marshall received 115 yards passing from true freshman Rakeem Cato, as he completed 15-of-21 passes. Tron Martinez led the Herd ground game with 76 yards rushing, while Antavious Wilson led the Herd receivers with 64 yards. Marshall's defense was paced by defensive backs Darryl Roberts and Devin Arrington with six tackles each.

Statistics for the shortened contest showed West Virginia with 42 yards rushing and 249 passing for 291 yards of total offense. Marshall finished with 72 yards on the ground and 115 in the air for 187 yards of offense.

With the win, West Virginia improved to 11-0 all-time against Marshall and 8-0 all-time against the Thundering Herd in Morgantown. In the latest "Friends of Coal" Bowl series, West Virginia improved to 6-0 against Marshall.

Game 2

WEST VIRGINIA

No. 19/24 West Virginia 55, Norfolk State 12

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (Sept. 10, 2011) - In a tale of two halves, West Virginia scored 45 second-half points to defeat Norfolk State, 55-12, at Milan Puskar Stadium.

The Spartans took a 12-10 lead into the locker room at halftime, but could not handle the WVU passing attack in the second half as quarterback Geno Smith passed for a career-best 371 yards and tied his previous high mark of four touchdowns. Smith's passing yards were the seventh-highest in school history.

However, the Spartans hit some big plays early to propel them into the lead. The Spartans went up 3-0 on a 50-yard field goal by Everett Goldberg and followed that up with a 39-yard Ryan Estep field goal for a 6-0 lead with 14:41 to play in the second quarter.

West Virginia answered with two scores of its own. The first was a 17-yard Tyler Bitancourt field goal to end a 10-play drive, and the second was an 18-yard pass from Smith to receiver Devon Brown, giving the Mountaineers a 10-6 lead.

But Norfolk State would not go away in the first half. The Spartans bounced back with Estep field goals of 39 and 40 yards, the second one coming as the half ended, giving the visitors a 12-10 lead at the intermission.

The Mountaineers were a different team in the second half and unleashed a 28-point third quarter to put the rout in motion. WVU scored on seven straight possessions in the second half, and ran the clock out on its eighth.

Early in the third, tailback Vernard Roberts scored on a three-yard run on the half's opening possession. Receiver Tavon Austin pulled in a three-yard touchdown reception, followed by a three-yard scoring run by true freshman Dustin Garrison.

Tyler Urban closed out the scoring in the third stanza with a 12-yard touchdown reception, and after trailing 12-10 after two quarters, the Mountaineers took a commanding 38-12 lead after three periods of play.

Three more scores followed in the fourth quarter for West Virginia. Ivan McCartney's 39-yard touchdown catch was the longest scoring play in the game at the 14:10 mark of the fourth.

Bitancourt added his second field goal (21 yards) at the 9:39 mark before a 30-yard pass from backup quarterback Paul Millard closed out the scoring, when he hit receiver Brad Starks with 3:18 left in the game to finish off a 10-play, 57-yard scoring drive.

Three of West Virginia's nine scoring drives consisted of 10 plays or more as the Mountaineers racked up 102 yards rushing and 431 passing for an impressive 533 yards of total offense.

Besides Smith's impressive numbers, Brown turned in a 109-yard receiving day on four catches. Austin added 82 yards receiving and McCartney 79 as the passing game clicked. Roberts led the WVU ground game with 64 yards rushing.

The Mountaineer defense did not allow a touchdown for the second straight game and received 11 tackles from Darwin Cook and eight from Terence Garvin.

Spartan quarterback Chris Walley finished with 136 yards passing. His main target was Xavier Boyce, who caught eight passes for 100 yards. Takeem Hedgeman led the running game with 62 yards, and Corwin Hammond and Onyemehi Anyaugo paced the defense with a combined 17 tackles.

Norfolk State finished with 88 yards rushing and 197 passing for 285 yards of offense.

With the win, West Virginia upped its record to 12-0 all-time against FCS schools and is now riding an 18-game non-conference winning streak at home. WVU's 431 yards passing is the first Mountaineer 400-yard passing effort since 1998, while the 533 yards of total offense was the first 500-yard output since 2009.
