

2017 NCAA® Division I Women's Basketball Championship
First Round · California vs. LSU
March 18, 2017 · Ferrell Center · Waco, Texas
POSTGAME NOTES

LSU Notes:

- The Lady Tigers' loss moves its NCAA Championship record to 43-25.
- It's the 17th time this season that the Lady Tigers have scored in double figures for second chance points with 19.
- The Lady Tigers have forced 20 or more turnovers 17 times this season and are now 14-3 in those games (Cal had 20).
- Alexis Hyder's 10 points is her 13th time to score in double-figures this season, 34th of her career.
- Hyder also secured her 4th double-double of the season, 14th of her career, with 10 points and 12 rebounds.
- Hyder's 12 rebounds surpassed her season-high (previously 11 vs. Georgia on 2/19).
- With 10 points tonight, Chloe Jackson has reached double figure scoring for the 22nd time this season and her career.
- Raigyne Moncrief's 10 points is the 30th time this season she's scored in double figures, 67th of her career.
- For the 3rd time this season and 23th of her career, Rina Hill scored in double figures with 10 points.

California Notes:

- With the win, the Golden Bears are 12-11 in NCAA Championship play.
- In California's last seven NCAA appearance, it has reached at least the second round.
- Head Coach Lindsay Gottlieb moves into second place in Cal history with 138 wins.
- The Golden Bears move to 13-0 on the year in non-conference play.
- California improves to 5-0 in neutral site play this season.
- With 6 3-pointers tonight, Asha Thomas moves into second place with 63 made 3-point baskets in Cal history for the season.
- Thomas's 18 points marked the 14th game this season, 10th in the last 11, in which she has scored in double figures.
- Thomas also tied her career-high and NCAA Championship program-high with 6 3-pointers.
- Kristine Anigwe has scored in double figures in all but one game this season and had 15 points tonight.